Sattelite radio is growing and threatening fm-am radio for a reason, it is a supperior product. FM-AM radio are concerned with nothing more than putting commercials into rotation. It's almost a second thought as to what they put into the air time not filled by commercials. I choose to pay $10.00 a month instead of listening to more commercials than programing and what I get should not be limited by people that are scared it's going to take away from there bottom line. If local radio wants me to tune into there broadcast instead of XM they need to improve there product, not try to hold a monopoly on local info.
